Imaginant Fact Sheet

About Imaginant:

Imaginant Inc., a privately-held international corporation, was founded in 1986 in Rochester, New York (USA).

Worldwide employment is approximately 30 people, most of whom live in Rochester, where the company's headquarters are located. Imaginant's General Manager is Richard Barrett.

Approximately half of the company's sales are outside the United States. The company maintains Marketing and Sales offices both in Rochester, New York and Detroit, Michigan.

In 2004, the company changed its name to Imaginant, while retaining JSR Ultrasonics as a brand name for its ultrasonic instruments.

Major Product Lines:

Ultrasonics PELT Systems (Pulse Echo Layer Thickness)

Used by many leading manufacturers throughout the world to determine the thickness of multi-layer paint and specialty coatings on metals, composites, wood and plastics.

JSR Ultrasonic Pulser/Receivers

Used in a variety of scientific and high tech manufacturing applications, including the testing of integrated circuits, oil pipelines, geological formations and engine turbine blades.

Digital Cameras

High-resolution, high-quality, color digital cameras for use in entertainment, commercial, medical and industrial markets.
