

Imagilent's JSR Ultrasonics Division Awarded ISO 9001:2000 Certification

Achievement of certification consistent with company's focus on customer satisfaction

ROCHESTER, NY, USA (February 2, 2004) – JSR Ultrasonics, A Division of Imagilent announced today that it received ISO 9001:2000 certification of their Quality Management System on November 21, 2003 for “The calibration of coating samples and the certification of electronic measuring equipment.”

“ISO certification is an important part of our overall quality strategy,” said Richard Barrett, General Manager. “Our customers rely on our accurate calibrations and measurement expertise to ensure process control, and by attaining this certification we now have methods in place to completely satisfy our world wide customers' exacting needs.”

About Imagilent and JSR Ultrasonics

Imagilent, a privately held company, was founded in 1986 in Rochester, NY. The company designs, develops and manufactures a variety of industrial and scientific ultrasonic measuring devices, as well as digital cameras. For more information about Imagilent or JSR Ultrasonics visit www.Imagilent.com.